

INSIDER'S GUIDE TO OUTDOOR DINING

BOSTON MAGAZINE'S

Concierge

By Erin Byers Photographs by Heath Robbins

EATING OUTSIDE MAKES EVERYTHING TASTE BETTER. WHETHER you're digging into a takeout salad on the grass or sampling a delicate amuse bouche in a romantic garden, any meal is more memorable when enjoyed under the bright blue sky or stars. And since we rarely have quite enough warm days around here, dining al fresco is an especially precious treat. Here's where we head for happy moments and wonderful summer meals.

OUTER LIMITS: At Stephanie's on Newbury, hungry patrons can enjoy indoor and outdoor dining. Regular sit-down dishes include sauteed crab cakes and baked shells.